DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Erwin et al (US 6,249,770 B1) (hereinafter Erwin).

Erwin discloses (see columns 1-20) all the steps, methods, and means described in claims 1, 19, 34, and 43. Claims 2-18, 20-33, 35-42, and 44-50 are rejected as being dependant upon independent claims 1, 19, 34, and 43 which have been rejected. Erwin does not teach a medical facility.

However, a medical facility is simply an intended subject use of this invention, and the functions described in claims 1-50 can be applied to any facility or business operation, services or products. Furthermore, the features, steps, methods, and means described in claims 1-50 can be found in or associated with any major commercial computer spreadsheet available within the past decade, such as: Excel, Lotus 123, etc., which during that time have been used by thousands of financial analysts to conduct the types of standard and common financial analyses described as this invention, and for the past 10 years using the internet as a network. In addition the steps and methods described in claims 1-50 have been manually used for the past several decades with the use of calculators, so that this invention is merely the automation of an old and well known manual process. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to be well aware of these facts and to have used their old and well known features in duplicating this invention.
